

Damages in Copyright Litigation

News & Updates • May 8, 2018

Pravin Anand and Prachi Agarwal lend their views to Media Law International - An annual publication that provides comprehensive coverage of law firms and practitioners with media law expertise, across 56 jurisdictions around the world. The article throws light on the issues relating to damages in Copyright Litigation. An excerpt "...Damages in civil and criminal proceedings are one of the primary and the most important remedy for infringement in intellectual property litigation. These damages are seen as compensation to the right holders absolving them of the loss caused due to infringement; punish the wrong-doers as well as deter potential infringers..." Read the full article at <http://medialawinternational.com/indiaarticle.html> Anand and Anand has been as ranked Tier 1 firm by Media Law International.