

Montblanc obtains injunction against sale of counterfeits online

News & Updates • January 9, 2017

In a final ex parte order the Delhi High Court confirmed Montblanc the owner of the MONTBLANC and MEISTERSTUCK marks and the Three Ring / Star Device, and granted a permanent injunction against the defendants. The defendants, an e-commerce portal, were found to be copying, counterfeiting and marketing Montblanc's products through their website. The bench accepted that the defendants habitually sold counterfeit products and on a complaint to the Cyber Cell, an FIR had been registered against them as well. Read more about it on Bar & Bench, India Today and Daily Mail. In an earlier case involving Cartier, the Delhi High Court had awarded Rs. 1 crore in damages against an e-commerce website, setting a new record. Montblanc Meisterstück GmbH v Gaurav Bhatia & ors.; CS(OS) 2563/2013 & I.A.2360/2014 before the Delhi High Court

