

Competition Law

 Two camels prepped up for the world-famous camel race which marks the beginning of*

Overview

Competition Law in India

Though intellectual property and competition laws pursue parallel goals of encouraging innovation and accelerating economic growth, they strive very differently to achieve the same – the intellectual property regime being predicated primarily on exclusion while competition laws aim to control and curb monopolistic tendencies.

NAVIGATING THE BALANCE BETWEEN IP & COMPETITION LAW

Competition authorities are known to take exception to unreasonable exercises of intellectual property protection, but competition trip ups can even be inadvertent. Over-enthusiastic communication about “dominating the market” can ring regulators’ alarm bells; a poor choice of words rendering suspect what is otherwise perfectly legal behaviour. Business practices followed for years are increasingly coming under regulatory scrutiny and fines can be punishing, forcing companies to reconsider their corporate structures and strategies and the impact on their intellectual property rights.

ANTI-COMPETITIVE CONDUCT & IP LICENSING

Though reasonable conditions imposing restrictions are generally not impermissible, competition authorities and courts may take into account several factors when assessing if an entity is indulging in anti-competitive activity, not least its position and market share and agreements with others. Given that intellectual property protection in patents, frequently the subject matter of competition law disputes, is limited in duration, certain 'fair use' is permitted and availability of compulsory licensing should go some way in assuaging concerns.

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE & REPRESENTATION

Our law firm has advised national and international telecommunications firms, engineering companies, e-commerce domains, construction equipment and automobile manufacturers, beverage companies and media associations under the scanner of competition laws.

COMPREHENSIVE COMPETITION LAW SERVICES

Our competition practice offers a broad range of services, including due diligence, drafting contracts and advising on non-compete clauses, representing clients before competition forums and courts and filing leniency applications. Our attorneys also advise on competition concerns at mergers and acquisitions, and for licensing and franchising agreements.

PARTNER WITH EXPERIENCED COMPETITION LAWYERS IN INDIA

Whether your business is facing an antitrust investigation, planning a merger, or seeking proactive compliance advice, Anand & Anand's experienced competition lawyers can guide you through every stage. Contact our firm to ensure your business strategies remain competitive, compliant, and aligned with India's evolving competition law framework.

OUR PRACTICES

COPYRIGHT

CORPORATE

DESIGN

LITIGATION

PATENTS

TRADEMARK

Related News & Insights

VIEW ALL

News & Updates, Thought Leadership • June 16, 2026

India's Biodiversity Framework at a Crossroads: Industry Perspectives on the Biological Diversity Act and ABS Regulations, 2025

First published by Lexology. Authors: Pravin Anand and Dr. Neeti Wilson Introduction India's biodiversity is one of its greatest strategic assets.

News & Updates, Thought Leadership • June 16, 2026

Protecting Colour as a Brand Asset: Lessons from the Exide-Amara Raja Decision

First published by Lexology. Authors: Sandhya Singh and Sampada Kapoor Introduction In today's marketplace, consumers often identify products not

News & Updates, Thought Leadership • June 11, 2026

Arbitrating Trademark Disputes Following Mangayarkarasi – The Extent of Contractual Reach into Public Law

'First published on Legal500' By: Lakshmidevi Somanath The Supreme Court of India's 2025 decision in K. Mangayarkarasi and Anr v. N. J. Sundaresan marks

Thought Leadership • May 30, 2026

From Blueprint to Battle-Ready: The CIO's Executive Guide to Cyber Resilience

'First published on Enterprise IT World' Author: Subroto Kumar Panda The defining question for every board of directors has changed. It is no longer,
