

The Quint: Fashion Designers take steps to combat plagiarism

News & Updates • September 14, 2017

In light of fashion designers' initiatives against plagiarism, the Quint reports on steps taken to protect their unique designs. Including inviting Safir Anand to the FDCI's Board of Directors. Read the full story on the Quint. He spoke extensively to the Patriot on efforts by fashion designers to protect their originality and the saving of the entire creative industry itself.

